SHOPS VICTORIOUS.

Took First of the Series of Games With B. & O. Clerks.

PLAYED RINGS AROUND THEM.

Shops Score Eight Runs, While the Clerks Get Just Enough to Save Them from Whiteash Bath—Some Good Pitching but Bad Support.

In the first game of a series of three between the Shops and Clerks of the B. & O. the former were victorious, 8 to 1, winning the contest by superior work in every department of the game. The Clerks had their bluff called. There was nothing to them. The reason for their withdrawal from the City League is now clear.

For a while the contest had the earmarks of being a hotly contested, but missed fielding soon permitted the Shops to score. They always failed to catch, and finally had four of these over the side, while one merely scored, the consequence of a passed ball, was the best the Clerks could do.

The Clerks won the toss and took the field, Arthur King pitched yesterday. King pitched fine ball and deserves lots of credit. Had he been given anything like decent support the score might have been different. Seven Shop men fell down before his curves, and finally had four of these over the side, while one merely scored, the consequence of a passed ball, was the best the Clerks could do.

The first two innings were exciting, for both sides got men on bases, and couldn't score. A. Cunningham led off for the Shops in the first and singled. W. Cunningham singled and stole second, but the Clerks jammed one out to right, while Sheets jammed one out to right, good for two bases but for McHugh's great catch.

Teeters opened for the Clerks, hitting to Sheets, who fumbled the grounder. A. Cunningham hit a pop fly to A. Friel. Mason hit a short, who retired. Teeters at third. Faulkner went down. Sheets to Greg. In the second inning A. Friel hit a slow one down the third base line. King got the ball and threw back to first. Mason used bad judgment in going after the throw and A. Friel continued to second. Stillwagon fanned. Greg flew out to Joe Cunningham, who made a pretty catch, and F. Friel struck out.

A. Cunningham, for the Clerks, went out. Sheets to Greg. Gilbert hit to Greg, who made an unassisted put out, but Bradley drew a pass and took second on a passed ball. McHugh died, second to first.

Notes of the Game.
Teeters has a Tommy Leach stature and roots like Hughie Jennings on Red Lobster.

Those gentlemen who opined that Sheets was the whole thing on the Shop team will have to revise their dope book.

As many errors as assists for the Clerks. Save the mark.

The Clerks lack the hitters. Of their pitchers only one was made by the first three men in the batting order. Harbaugh seems to be the weakest hitter on the Shop team. All the others got a bingle or two.

A funny thing happened in the fifth inning. Teeters waited at a ball close to him. He caught the ball close to his hands and hit it to Sheets. The consequence of this was that he made no effort to run.

That catch of McHugh's in the first was a beauty. Pity he dropped an easy one in the eighth.

Maybe the Clerks would like to play the Typos.

SHOW DAY TOMORROW.

Buffalo Bill's Aggregation Will Be Here Early.
Buffalo Bill's Wild West will be here tomorrow with all the multitudes of rough riders from all parts of the world; American Indian warriors, Mexican vaqueros, German cowboys, English lancers, Japanese horsemen, cowboys, ranch riding girls, Arabian nomads, Russian Cossacks and all of the other startling features that Col. Wm. F. Cody has gathered together during his five years' tour of Great Britain and Continental Europe.

Never before in the history of popular amusement in this or any other country has there been offered the public such a realistic and absorbing exhibition as is the Wild West. It is this simplicity and accuracy that lends to Colonel Cody's wonderful aggregation the charm which has enthralled the many millions who have witnessed the scenes in the Wild West arena.

The battle of Summit Springs, the great railroad hold-up, the home pictures of ranch life, the stage coach attack and rescue, are the principal features; with these may be mentioned the cowboy fun, the bucking bronchos, the cavalry evolutions, the Zouaves and many other items on the extensive program.

BRITT IS OUTCLASSED.

Breaks His Arm in Fight With Joe Gans After Five Rounds of Fighting.

DISPLAYS POOR GENERALSHIP.

Mixed It Up From Start and Gives Gans Just Chance He Wanted—Negro Fighter Adds Another Coup to His Long String.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—A left swing to the body cleverly blocked by Gans lost to Jimmy Britt any chance he might have had to win the lightweight championship of the world and brought to a close five rounds of fast fighting before 14,000 persons at Recreation park.

The deciding blow was caught by Gans on the elbow in the middle of the fourth round. It broke Britt's wrist, and though Britt went on again to the fifth round he was helpless in both offense and defense. It was not until this round that he informed his seconds of the mishap.

"What's the use of going on? I can't fight," Britt said. Captain of Police Gleason was informed at the ringside and he stopped the fight. Referee Welch gave the decision to Gans. Three doctors after examination announced that the injury was a fracture and dislocation of the lower end of the ulna. Britt showed intense suffering while the doctors were manipulating his wrist and tears rolled down his cheeks. "I was utterly helpless," he said. "I couldn't even hold up my left hand after I broke it. I had to guard for Gans' left and had no punch except with my right."

The fight while it lasted was a slugging match, but it was evident to every trained observer that Britt had no chance to win from the negro. For the first time in his life Britt was outclassed. Britt's lack of coolness was partly responsible for the miserable ending of the fight. From the first tap of the gong Britt appeared overconfident. He was not content to take the advice should to him by his seconds to make Gans do the fighting, but he rushed headlong into quarters that developed an inevitable slugging match in which the champion had by far the advantage. In the first round with a left swing on the neck that had lots of force in it, in the second round he had a hard right and right successfully to the body and face, but took in punishment a straight left on the nose.

The second round developed a mix-up at the top in which both men exchanged vicious rights and lefts. Gans having the advantage. In the third Gans followed his tactics of crowding Britt into a corner, and the Californian had no chance to get busy working his way out. The round was even.

Gans drew first blood in the fourth with a lightning straight left that brought a spasm of pain and a gasp from the corner of Britt's mouth. It was right after this that Britt threw all of his strength into a left swing that proved his undoing.

RACING MAN KILLED.

Two Serious Accidents Mark Automobile Races at Brunots Island.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—A big Haynes touring car driven in the Brunots Island races by Rex B. Coates, blew a tire upon entering the eighth mile of the 60-mile endurance derby. The machine careened toward the fence, upset and buried the two occupants under the wreckage. Assistant mechanic, was badly injured.

Shortly afterward Walter Christie, another driver, came out to go a mile and his trial was to be the last event of the day. With a crowd of 10,000 here the car came to the tape and got the pistol and was off. Reaching the first turn at the speed of 100 miles an hour the car was seen to skid, which Christie appeared to fight at once, and the next moment the huge monster was seen to dash toward the fence, strike the wreckage of the car in which Reimertsen had met his death. Christie was hurled through the air in a cloud of dust.

Tom Dunn drove rapidly to the scene of the accident in his car and tender hands lifted Mr. Christie into it and he also was hurried to St. John's hospital. The big crowd was now in a frenzy of fear. Two such terrible accidents following each other so closely seemed to unnerv everyone.

The crowd surged on the track, which was now slowly dotted all over with specks of humanity. Men were so wrought up that the greatest excitement prevailed. Many took away as souvenirs pieces of the wrecked cars. In a crowd and subdued way the big throng turned to get away from the awful catastrophes.

FEATHERMAN & SUMBERG,

Boom! Boom!! Boom!!!

That's the way Grant's guns thundered at Vicksburg and Lee's guns thundered at Fredericksburg. Each of them thundered a little louder than the other fellow at each place and won the battle.

The war is over long ago, but booming still wins.

Make this town and the country around it your battleground, and then boom!

If you boom loud enough, people will come from afar off to find out what's up. Then a little more booming will take them prisoners and add them to the population. Then they will begin booming, and other willing captives will come in. This is the inside history of every town on earth that amounts to anything more than a hill of beans.

Booming may be done in many ways. A board of trade can do it. A commercial club or business men's club can do it. You can do it individually.

If you don't believe in this town, why do you live here? If you do believe in it, why don't you boom it? Every new family means money in your pocket if you are in business here or own property here. If you make your living by working here, every increase of population tends to increase your wages, every new industry brought to town tends to enlarge your opportunities for making a good living.

Batteries in a battle boom together. If only one gun booms now and then it helps some, but when they all boom together something big is going to happen right off. It's just the same with town booming. When we all boom together, the things we desire to have happen will begin happening.

Now, suppose you who read this suggest through the columns of this paper some method of massing our boom batteries and making a noise that will bring people running into this town to go into business, start a factory, develop some of our natural resources.

N. B.—BOOM! BOOM!! BOOM!!!

After The Play

'That was a good play, now we'll finish off with a little supper' the ladies then came out of the theater.

I do love to have something good' she rejoined.

'Oh yes' thinking of his watch 'We'll go to the Lincoln and be sure to have it all enough.' They were so prompt on their feet, you know, that we were soon having a bite.

'What will be the best' she said. 'I don't like to spoil supper by having too much in a rush.' What will we have?

'We can have anything we wish at the Lincoln. More variety of things is served there than anywhere else I know. We might have a Long Island or a Golden Bock rarebit or roast Newburg, or any number of other salads' said she.

'It is true there is' he told her and added she thought it was a very attractive for the supper. The waiter was so prompt so that when the ladies were served they found the plans to spend a happy time in the enjoyment of their delicious food. The perfect setting of the room was a great help.

'When finally they got to board the steward train they found that the food was the simplest yet delicious and had made the evening

More Transportation Facilities Imperatively Needed.

By Chairman MARTIN A. KNAPP of the Interstate Commerce Commission

NOTHING is so much more important at the present time as to do with our national prosperity the mandate of the people to provide with the least possible delay A VERY GREAT INCREASE IN OUR TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES. The profitable output of the forest and its history is measured by the ability to move the product promptly and cheaply from producer to consumer. The increase of profitable production depends on our CONTINUED ADVANCE in material wealth, and that increased production must turn depend on enlarged facilities for their distribution.

The needs of the country in this regard are growing with astonishing rapidity. Thus have OUTFLOWING the carrying capacity of our railroads. The surplus from current operations is entirely inadequate to supply our present necessities.

AN IMMENSE AMOUNT OF FRESH CAPITAL MUST BE INVESTED IN RAILWAY IMPROVEMENTS IN ORDER THAT OUR NATIONAL COMMERCE MAY DEVELOP AND OUR PROSPERITY ADVANCE.
